

Abstract

My diploma work is structured in ten chapters.

The first chapter clarifies essence of the suspended sentence.

The historical development of the suspended sentence follows.

The third chapter refers to changes in the new criminal code.

Following two chapters describe legal conditions at putting this punishment.

The sixth chapter refers to the suspended sentence close by juvenile offenders.

Forms of decision and the executing action are theme of the seventh chapter.

The following chapter concerns in the Probation and Mediation Service.

The ninth chapter in basic features sketches alternatives to unsuspended sentence.

The final chapter think of using the suspended sentence in system of alternative punishments.