

Annotation

This bachelor's thesis named "Child with ADHD Syndrome in Kindergarten" is aimed at mapping problems connected with upbringing and education of children with ADHD syndrome in the kindergarten environment. Such study could lead to extension of our knowledge of the ADHD syndrome, to understanding the child's living situation, and further to a description of possibilities of systematic work with such children which could result in alleviation of ADHD syndrome manifestations.