

Abstract

Name of the essay:

Knowledge analysis of students primary school, high school and university in the field of protection human on behalf of emergency in capital city Prague

Aim of the essay:

The main objective of this work is to point out the topic of civil protection, determine the way of education and knowledge of students at Prague schools. Another component of this essay describes the history and present condition of civil protection in our region, legislation and the meaning of civil protection for our country.

Method:

For getting data in this empirical study the method of inquiry was used. The inquiry contains of three parts: identification, research and complement.

The individual study was made on chosen Prague schools and universities.

Results:

Frequency and statistical significance of answers were made from received data. The results showed that students have some knowledge in traffic education and first aid. But there is still lot of things that students should learn, mostly in civil protection.

Key words:

Civil protection, civil protection education, civil defense, history of civil defense