

Abstrakt v anglickém jazyce

This diploma work deals with problems of offenders' personality from the criminological point of view. The first chapter explains primary terms which are necessary for understanding of given matter, here after I introduce the state of crime -rate in the Czech Republic during the period of 2006-2009 and constitution of offenders from the age and sex point of view. In the fifth chapter I introduce one of many offender typologies. After that I concentrated on the criminality of youth, its specification, state and structure. The eighth chapter deals with prevention, its meaning and kinds of preventive measures.