

The destination of my thesis is to present the information about the abilities visual handicapped women to become mothers. Even they are handicapped they can solve individually normal and complicated life situations. This work is focused on the questions of the pregnancy, the labour and passing parentage.

The methods that I will use in my thesis will be:

x

Common tract on the pregnancy, the preparing to birth the baby, the labour. Also about the yearn for the independent way of life of people with the visual handicap, x The case reports, the interviews with the visual handicapped mothers and analyse their speeches,

x

The study references, Internet, consultations with the specialists and the institutions for the visual handicapped people.

My work will aim for current situations of the visual handicapped mothers in Czech republic and if our society and the institutions are prepared for them.