PARISH SOCIAL WORKS IN THE CZECHOSLOVAK CHURCH FROM 1920 – 1955

Autor: Františka Tichá

In this work, I pursued the parish social works in the Czechoslovak church from its rise to 1950's.

I partially captured an origin of the roots of the Christian church's social works in chapter two.

Chapter three describes the rise of the Czechoslovak church and its social works development.

The views of some of the Czechoslovak church's theologians on social concerns are captured in chapter four. Chapter five analyzes the social works in three selected parishes.

In chapter six, I explained how the Czechoslovak church's teachings were implemented in parishes. Chapter seven discusses the downfall of the social works within the Czechoslovak church after February 1948.

In conclusion, I have arrived at an opinion that the social works unions laid out an admirable effort in this field. It is unfortunate that due to the political changes in 1948 the social works unions had to undergo a liquidation.
