

Dissertation deals with problems of family relationships and family structures.

Target of my dissertation was bringing these relations and structures near.

Theoretical part sketches terms as family, its evolution, function and parentcraft. Among others also forms of work with family.

In theoretical part there are also brought near terms as a marriage, divorce and partnership.

Empire part of dissertation dedicates to the opinions of students of Theological faculty on the family relationships and structures in nuclear family and it also dedicates to their ideas of future common life
