

Abstract:

This diploma thesis discusses the possible influences that media especially television has on language development in pre-school children. In first part we talk about speech development, speech difficulties, history of media, studies about influence of watching TV on the personality of the child. Practical part examines influence of watching TV on child and his speech.