

Result of this work is a reconstruction of proof, that non-deterministic linear time is strictly more powerful than deterministic linear time. We focus on completeness and clarity either of proof itself, either of all auxiliary propositions, which lead to this result.