

Abstract

In my undergraduate work, I focused on the alkaloids contained in plants that occur secondary metabolism of plants. Describe here their use and abuse in different stages of human existence. There is also framing the concept of plant alkaloids in the various series of textbooks of natural history and description of representatives of the plants that we have chosen on the basis of what is mentioned in textbooks.