

Abstract

The bachelor thesis is based on data file International self-report delinquency (International research of juvenile delinquency from 2007) and secondary analyses is concentrating on the problem of differentiation according to the influence of the education process - comparison of primary schools and grammar schools. This work will be completed by independent research of the special primary schools. In following work I deal with comparison delinquent behavior of students from above-mentioned types of school. For example about drink alcohol, drug taking or property torts. There are statistical data and hypothesis in the work. I work with special literature and paper and prime research ISRD-2.

Keywords

Juvenile delinquency, delinquent behavior, primary schools, grammar schools, special primary schools