

Abstrakt

Author: Zuzana Grycová

Title: Case Study of physiotherapy treatment of a patient with the diagnosis of fraktura proximal humeri

This bachelor thesis is focused on physiotherapy of shoulder girdle after fractured upper part of the upper arm and after shoulder joint alloplastic. General part contains anatomical, kinesiological and biomechanical information about shoulder girdle. There are also information about shoulder joint alloplastic, examination and physiotherapy of a shoulder girdle. In a practical part there is the case study of a patient with the diagnosis of fractured upper part of the upper arm bone – humerus.