

Abstract

The bachelor's thesis deals with the life and work of Jiří Hejda. The first part is devoted to the life of Jiří Hejda itself. The main sources were the author's autobiography, available archive materials and historical studies. In the second part of the thesis, articles that were published in 1931 in the journal České slovo are analyzed. The articles from the section Výroba a obchod (Production and trade), for which was Jiří Hejda responsible, are of main interest. The main topics of his contributions are divided into six basic groups, which are described in more detail. At the end of the chapter, Hejda's opinions are summarized and compared with contemporary economic thought. The third chapter is focused on individual economic publications. Subchapters devoted to the publications include description of the individual pieces of work. Most represented are the works that were published by Česká národohospodářská společnost during the period of the first Czechoslovak republic. The fourth part deals with the literary work of Jiří Hejda. Besides the economic studies, Jiří Hejda wrote an autobiography and was also an author of crowns of sonnets, novels and stories. Jiří Hejda thought up a large portion of his work during the time spent in prison and wrote it only after he was released in the sixties. Only a part of these works was, however, published; the rest is still waiting for its publication.
