

Abstract

The submitted work is a bachelor thesis from translation studies. It is a commented translation of a historical reference book about the reign of French kings.

The first part of the thesis is a translation of the text into Czech. Second part is a commentary of the translation focused on analysis of the original text, typology of translation problems and used translation methods.