

This work is intended primarily interested in the cross-country skiing, whether the general public engaged in this sport, and coaches and athletes who have the opportunity to look into the training and performance indicators junior representants for the past 6 years. The work deals with the basic characteristics of cross-country skiing, and not least on the sports training and performance in this sport.