

Abstract

The topic of this bachelor's thesis is comprehensive description and characteristics of special educational activities used at Home For Visually Impaired People Palata. Thesis consists of several chapters which initially deal with senior age issue, then the issue of elderly with vision impairment, and then the matter of spare time in context of quality of life of senior citizens. In the last section we find the characteristic of special educational activities at Palata, their specifics for seniors with vision impairment, and description of the process. The purpose of this thesis is to give a summary of special educational activities at Home For Visually Impaired People Palata, and thanks to analyses of these activities, observation and analysis of professional literature, to demonstrate the importance and need for these activities in facilities for the elderly.

Key words

- visual impairment, senior, Home For Visually Impaired People Palata, special education, therapy, spare time