

Summary:

This dissertation whose title is Non – professional servers of literature is focused on theme of cretion of non – professional literature and on analysing czech websites where this literature is published. The aim of theoretical part in this dissertation is try to define non – professional literatutre and put it into system of literature. This study characterises particular servers of literature, specifically liter.cz, pismak.cz, poeta.cz, saspi.cz and totem.cz. The practical part contains completion of information, that was impossible to find out on described servers and it was achievd by using answers to questionnaires created for the editors of particular servers. Another goal of this study is to gain knowledge of what is important for the readers and authors, that published their works on these servers, and how they are satisfied with particular servers.

Key words:

Literature

Server

Author

Reader

Liter

Písmák

Poeta

Saspi

Totem