

Abstract

The most important goal of this Thesis is a descriptive analysis of primary drug-related crimes in the Central Region in the period 2009 – 2011, from the criminal law perspective. The main objective of this descriptive analysis is the so-called drug-related crimes, which are included in Title VII., special part of the Criminal Code (Act No. 40/2009/Sb., Criminal Code, as amended) as generally dangerous crimes in Act no. § 283 - § 288 of the Criminal Code. A subsequent objective is to provide an overview of the basic terminology and define the specifics of primary drug crimes. In the text is stated the frequency of drug crimes detected by the Czech Police in the Central Region during the examined period. The most common types of drug crimes detected in this territory in the period are also described in detail. The Thesis also deals with the description of the development of drug crimes in different districts of the Central Region, including the demographic assessment of the offenders by age, sex and nationality.

Key words: criminality, drug addiction, crime, offender, addictive substance