

Annotation:

In my bachelor thesis is a brief description of education students with Crohn's disease or ulcerative colitis in the Czech Republic.

The first part of the thesis briefly describes the problems of these two diseases and legislation definition of education of disadvantaged students in the Czech Republic.

The second part of the thesis describes the Czech and European organizations that promote ways pupils, students and adults patients suffering from Crohn's disease or ulcerative colitis.

The final part summarizes the support of various organizations in the Czech Republic and throughout Europe.