

Abstract

The bachelor thesis Biblical topics in ČKD in the years 1890-1920 brings up information about the articles of the biblical theme published in ČKD in mentioned years. This period was crucial for the birth of modern methods of biblical work. Their acceptance in the Catholic Church at that time collided with the obstructions and the restrictions. From the articles published in ČKD it is clear that the Czech biblical scholars had to deal with the contemporary tendencies but stayed in their majority on the ground of classical exegesis. The work is supplemented by medallions of the main authors of the published articles and a complete list of the articles as inclosure.