

Diploma thesis is survey into the relationship between art and sport. It searches new social elements, which can be used as an approach to art and physical education.

Didactic part contains a suggestion, which has common issues for both art and physical education that can be used in school lessons.