

Abstract

Title of bachelor's thesis: The case study of physiotherapeutical treatment of a patient after total hip replacement.

Summary: The aim of this thesis is a comprehensive treatment of the theoretical and practical knowledge in a patient after total hip arthroplasty and subsequent rehabilitation. The thesis is divided into two parts. The general part is focused on the theoretical treatment certain diagnoses, drawn from literature. A special part contains a case report of a patient after total hip arthroplasty implanted l.dx.

Key words: Hip joint, koxarthrosis, total replacement, arthroplasty, physiotherapy, case study