

ABSTRACT:

This thesis deals with variants of a school climate. The theoretical part consists of two sections. The first section explains basic terms which are connected with the school climate. The second section explains the factors influencing the school climate. The practical part is concentrated on a quantitative research of variants of a school climate in the form of a questionnaire. The questionnaire finds out a climate in Secondary technical school in Čáslav and in Secondary agricultural school in Čáslav. The respondents are students, parents and teachers.

KEYWORDS:

Environmental influences, climate, atmosphere, variants of a school climate, student, teacher, parents, assessment, relations, communication