

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with issues of Ukraine-Russia relations with emphasis on Ukrainian internal situation. First part chronological encapsulates historical aspects of bilateral relations from the end of the dissolution of the Soviet Union to the tenure of President Viktor Yushchenko, which brings deterioration of mutual relations. Second half of thesis is analytically focused on the presidential term of Viktor Yanukovich and the then unequal relations between Ukraine and Russian federation. Final chapter puts forward verification of the set hypothesis about disproportionately Ukrainian political concessions towards to Russia.
