Mentor comments to thesis and student approach:

Diploma thesis named „Synthesis of substituted arylguanidines as potential drugs XI.“ deals with the synthesis of novel compounds from phenylguanidine group with potential antifungal activity.

Swedi Firdaus Shaban has been interested in the synthesis of novel compounds with potential biological activity and has worked with enthusiasm in the chemical laboratory where she has learned all necessary methods for the synthesis of new guanidine derivatives. She has also written her thesis independently and carefully.

Her paper has all elements for the diploma thesis on the faculty and I recommend it for the final defense.

Evaluation of diploma thesis: excellent, to defense: recommended
