

Abstract

This thesis deal with the topic of the Swedish People's party in Finland. The position of the party is declining in these days. Despite is has been a part of the government since 1979 until now, its positions is changing. In its first part, the thesis gives an introduction to the topic, it describes the party itself, its history and goals in politics. In the second part, it offers the analysis of the current situation, including the coparation with the main opponents, as the Finns party and the others. As a conclusion, thesis sums us the information and gives some solution and recommendations.