

Abstract

Title of the thesis: Analysis of individual game performance of the center offensive players in football

Objective of the thesis: The aim of this work is analyze the gaming performance of the center offensive players in first and second czech football league and compare their results.

Solving methods: The analysis will be performed by using the videostreams with focus on center offensive players. Than we analyze and compare the data.

Results: The frequency and success of gaming activities of selected center offensive players in firts and second czech football league and compare them.

Key words: Football, individual game performance, individual game activities, creativity.