

Working on my dissertation was very interesting and also rewarding. Its theme - the detailed analysis of the media magnate Rupert Murdoch, of his empire in the UK and outline of the powers concentrated in the hands of one single man - has not been covered both in the literature and in expert text over the last ten years.