

The thesis with the help of oral history focus on mapping the lives of ordinary members of the SNB and then the Police of the Czech Republic in the late eighties and nineties of the last century. It will focus on issues of working and non-working life associated with this period.