

Abstract

The aim of this work is to express some lifestyle particularities of Romanies in the Czech Republic. The work is both theoretically and empirically focused. At the theoretical part the theoretical starting point is paid attention to. Also Romany living, employment, value orientation and all over historical context of Romany being on our territory is analysed. There are 11 qualitative interviews with Romanies included in the empirical part. The dialogues try to outline, being limited with the used method, some Romany lifestyle themes and its specifics in the selected localities of Czech Republic. The culture and free time activities is also included.