

The objective of the diploma thesis is to ascertain the causalities between the junior school pupils' lack of discipline and teachers' strategies for finding out solutions to indiscipline. In the focus of attention, it is to find out if pupils' discipline depends on a teacher's strategies, and if minimisation of pupils' indiscipline during lessons occurs as a result of them.