

Abstract

This diploma thesis provides a detailed picture of the six Czech organic farms – six Czech organic farmers, who work in different locations in the Czech Republic. It focuses on the motivation for nonconventional methods of agriculture, tells the story of their business, explores and compares the different aspects that may play an important role in bringing holistic picture of Czech organic farming after 1989.

Keywords

Organic farming, biodynamic agriculture, organic farm, organic farmer, motivation