

Abstract

Title: Charakteristics of nonanthropogenic emergencies

Objectives: The aim of the work is to characterize the types of extraordinary nonanthropogenic events and identify those, which occurs with the most common frequency in Czech Republic.

Methods: In this thesis, were used the method of analysis and explanation of informations closely related to the issues of nonanthropogenic emergencies in Czech Republic and in the world.

Results: A summary of some nonanthropogenic emergencies that have already appeared or may appear in Czech Republic and in the world.

Keywords: Extraordinary event, nonanthropogenic events, threat, dangerous, prevention, safety.