

Abstract

Title

Characteristics of anthropogenic emergencies.

Objectives

The aim of the work is to describe selected anthropogenic emergencies as well as to set out their history and advance up until today.

Methods

The methods of analysis of a broad spectrum of literature concerning the issue of emergencies with subsequent analysis of selected resources were used throughout the course of the research.

Results

Overview of important emergencies regarding not only to the present day but also the past.

Key words

System, danger, accident, threat, terrorism.