

Abstract

Title: Sport activities among students of primary school and high school in Louny

Objectives: Bachelor thesis is about research of sport activities among students of high school and primary school in Louny. The aim of this thesis is to find out in which sports are students engaged and what are the main motivators and barriers in sport. With regard to the local sport situation, we want to find out in which sports are students interested in and alternatively they would like to try it.

Methods: Sport activities among students has been investigated by using a questionnaire survey. The questionnaire was realized in written form.

Results: Results of this survey has shown that the level of sport activity among student of high school and primary school is high. Compared to 2010, sport situation has improved. Frequency of doing sport has increased. Despite the particular problems, student are rather satisfied with the local sport situation.

Keywords: Sport activities, sport environment, questioning, competitive and recreational sport, Louny, students of primary and high school