

Annotation

This thesis focuses on transgenerational transmission of educational styles in the family and it is divided into two parts, theoretical and practical part. The theoretical part describes and defines the basic concepts and definitions of family, upbringing, educational styles and transgenerational transmission. The practical part is trying to achieve determine the extent to which it occurs transgenerational transmission of educational styles in the family.