

Abstract

Thesis: Planning a watersports camp.

Purpose: The purpose of this thesis is to create a guide for the preparation and implementation of a watersports camp (with an example) and to describe the activity of the supervisor before, during, and the after the camp.

.

Method: This work is of nonexperimental character; no research methods were used, and it's structure isn't based on any hypothesis, nor any scientific questions. It is of a speculative character, where specific theories are suggested and theoretically explained.

Keywords: Watersports tourism, watersports camp, canoe, technique, safety.

