

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deal with adjusting ratios of minors with divorce proceedings of parents' marriage. This work characterizes and analyses the current legislation valid in the Czech Republic in response to a brief overview of earlier legislation.

On the theoretical basis is built a practical guide of the whole guardianship proceedings. The bachelor thesis analyses substantive and procedural aspects of this issue. The objective of this work is good cognition of the basic legislation valid in the Czech Republic, because this knowledge means prevention against possible injudicious action of parents, which can negatively affect successful development of minors.