Title of the thesis:	DSGE modeling of business cycle properties of Czech labor market

OVERALL ASSESSMENT (provided in English, Czech, or Slovak):

The thesis applies an extended DSGE model to analyse business cycle properties of Czech labor market. Endogenous wage rigidities belongs to the main contributions of the thesis. The thesis is well structurized and written in good english. Sufficient review of recent literature is provided. The student applied advanced, up to date methodology. I think the thesis has a good chance to be publish in a journal with high impact factor. Just one minor recommendation is to check the hyphenation (e.g. anal-ysis, p.1).

I recommend the thesis to be defended with grade A - excellent.
