

Abstract

In her diploma thesis „The Holy See and the fascist Italy on the way to solving Roman question in the 20s of the 20th Century“, the author shall address the relation between the Holy See and the fascist Italy within the period of 1922–1929. She shall undertake an analysis of the development and transformation of this relation from Benito Mussolini’s rise to power until the adoption of the Lateran Treaties. Simultaneously, the author shall focus on political-religious circumstances affecting this relationship, such as the assassination of a socialist parliamentarian Giacomo Matteotti in 1924 contextualized within the then development of Italy. The thesis shall primarily draw on the studies of selected sources (editions, press) as well as foreign scholarly literature.
