

Abstract

The thesis is focused on institute called right to build and other possibilities to build on somebody else's land in accordance with Civil Code effective since 1. 1. 2014. It also defines important terms connected to the right to build, its history on Czech territory and its foreign form which can be used as source of inspiration for future practice. Part of the thesis deals with unauthorized structures on somebody else's land which are built on the land without a legal reason.