

Abstract

A Book Religious sense as an Aid on the Path to Religion?

The main theme of the bachelor's thesis is a book Il senso religioso (The Religious Sense). It is the first volume of a trilogy PerCorso (The Way) by an Italian priest, theologian, and teacher Don Luigi Giussani. The first part of the thesis depicts the author's biography and the time period he lived in. The second part describes the book Il senso religioso in more detail, and it gives information about its origin and the first edition as well. Subsequently, an analysis and synthesis of the book follow. The focus is put on the main thoughts of this book. In the third part, results of a short questionnaire are incorporated. In the end, based on the results, it is assessed, whether this book could be seen in today's society as an aid to those, who are looking for answers regarding the meaning of life and belief in God.
