

Abstract

The bachelor thesis brings the survey of language education in the context of lifelong learning – from pre-school education to free time language learning activities of adults, specifics of various age groups incl. methods of teaching, trends and modern tendencies of language learning. The work introduces educational institutions and an overview of language learning in the context of European Union and the Ministry of Education of the Czech Republic.