

Final thesis follows the destiny of Alois Klar (1763-1833) with the emphasis on the history of ideas. Primarily, it focuses on three realms: religion thinking, history of language and school system. The whole frame is based on an effort to create an alternative analytic concepts for studying the age of so called "National Movement".