

Abstract

Bachelor thesis "The safety and quality of health services in Perioperative Care" deals with quality control of nursing care in selected inpatient health care facilities as well as prevention and management of potential risks associated with the provision of nursing care. The empirical part of the thesis focuses on the awareness of perioperative nurses regarding the use of and adherence to standards, recommended work practices and quality control of nursing care in operating theaters.

Custom survey was carried out at the University Hospital Motol in Prague 5 and simultaneously at the General University Hospital in Prague 2. The obtained data were evaluated using statistics CZ 12 and are presented in tables and figures. In the final discussion the information obtained were compared with the results of previously completed studies, and recommendations were set for improving the quality and safety of nursing care in operating theaters.