Title:

History, the present and new methods in physiotherapy

Subtitle: Creating of new website for physiotherapy branch

Abstract:

The theme of this thesis is the creation of a comprehensive document, which deals with history, present and new methods in the field of physiotherapy. Part of this is also the creation of a new web site design for this branch where this bachelor thesis consists of two parts, from the theoretical and practical part.

The theoretical part contains information about history, present and new methods in the field of physiotherapy. History is divided into several points dealing with the history of rehabilitation, the history of the Clinic of Rehabilitation Medicine of the General Teaching Hospital and the First Faculty of Medicine of the Charles University, important personalities of rehabilitation and physiotherapy, history of physiotherapy, physical therapy, balneology, kinesiology, and points to legal regulation of this field in the Czech Republic. The present field is focused on physiotherapy in the Czech Republic, course of physiotherapy, methods and possibilities of study. The last point of the theoretical part is focused on new foreign methods, from which the methodology is created.

The practical part is devoted to the design of new web pages for this field followed by the possibilities of studying abroad. Suggestions for new web pages are also accompanied by a graphical design of the final appearance of these pages. The study options include information on the possibilities of studying physiotherapy worldwide, including the list of faculties and universities that allow study in the countries concerned.
