

The Bachelor thesis deals with the development of key ideas important for formal formulating of Cavalieri's principle, its proof in general form and using Cavalieri's principle in determining the area of plane figures and volumes of solids. Determining of area and volumes using Cavalieri's principle is associated with the derivation of the well-known formulae for calculating area and volume.