

Abstract

This diploma thesis deals with techniques and history of traditional women's court clothes' decorating during the Choseon dynasty, and at the same time it deals with symbolism of motifs portrayed on these clothes with the use of these techniques. Simultaneously, it's aim is to analyze selected preserved garments of that time and illustrate the mentioned techniques and motifs on them.