

Summary

The bachelor thesis on the Possibilities of Social Rehabilitation of the Salvation Army Clients at the Center of Social Services Lidická deals with people without home, people in crisis. The theoretical part focuses on description and problematic areas related to people without shelter. For the practical part of the thesis the data of the users of the social rehabilitation service were selected and studied. This part of the thesis deals specifically with the analysis of the Salvation Army users. People who used the Social Rehabilitation Service CSSL in 2014-2016 were selected for the analysis.